Thrilling Story Told by Men
After Their Return to Camp

(By Associated Press.)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., August 25.—Their dreams of escape from the German prison camp here blasted, nineteen of the twenty-one German prisoners who made a getaway last night during a severe electrical storm were held in close confinement today.

Two of the prisoners, Johann Eckland, 22, and Wilhelm Linke had not been recaptured up to a late hour this afternoon.

Camp officials, expressing the belief that the Germans received aid from outside sources in planning and making their escape, subjected each of the Germans to a thorough grueling today. Meanwhile an extended search was instituted for the two remaining at large.

The building in which the Germans are confined is situated directly across a company street from a deserted barracks. From the cellar under their quarters, the Germans tunneled under the company street into the cellar of the kitchen of the deserted barracks, a distance of eighty feet.

Their only utensils were three short handled shovels, an axe and four boxes attached to runners like sleds in which they hauled the dirt excavated. This dirt was then placed under the barracks.

The tunnel when completed was 3 feet high, 28 inches wide and 3 feet underground.

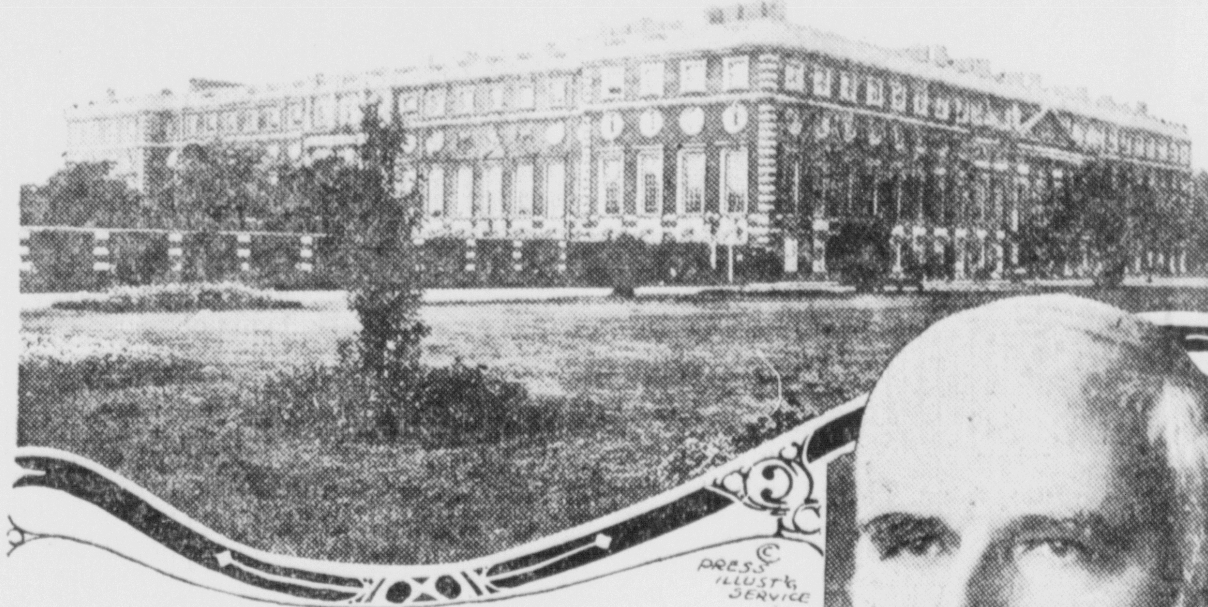

The prisoners asserted they were only three days at their task.

During last night's storm the Germans stole through their tunnel into the kitchen of the deserted barracks building, where they changed their prison uniform for civilian clothes. So far, the prisoners refuse to divulge the source of their civilian outfits.

Prying loose a window they escaped in various directions. Later, five were captured in Circleville and five were captured when they were about to enter Columbus by traction.

The remainder were apprehended in and near Chillicothe or the camp. One of the escaped prisoners was taken from a freight train at Roxabel at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

HAMPTON COURT THOUGHT LIKELY PLACE FOR KAISER'S TRIAL

Hampton Court, one of the most popular royal castles in England, where ex-kaiser may be tried, and Lord Finlay, who will preside at trial.

Hampton Court is now believed to be the place where the allies will bring the ex-kaiser of Germany to trial for his crimes against humanity. This court is the largest and probably the most popular of the English castles. If the court is used the actual trial will be conducted in the king's great council chamber. It will be conducted in English before five judges, representing the United States, England, France, Italy and Japan. Lord Finlay, the lord high chancellor and famous British jurist, will preside at the trial, which is expected to open next April. Finlay is seventy-seven years of age and has been both solicitor-general and attorney general of Great Britain.

TWO ENLISTED MEN THWARTED PRISONERS' PLAN

Private and Baker Walking Down
Camp Street Reconize Two Prisoners.

Chillicothe, O., August 25.—Two enlisted men, a private and a baker, are given credit for thwarting the plans of twenty-one interned German prisoners who attempted to escape from Camp Sherman Sunday night.

The soldiers were walking along one of the military streets during the storm and passed two of the Germans dressed in civilian clothes. One of the soldiers thought he recognized one of the pair, and when they had passed he and his companion turned and followed at a distance.

The Germans walked on to the community house where they hailed a taxi. As they were about to enter it, the two soldiers and several others whom they had signalled to their assistance apprehended the prisoners.

The soldiers returned with the prisoners to their barracks and there discovered the evidence of the delivery. An alarm was turned in immediately and the hunt for the fugitives began.

HAD A DISCHARGE

One of the nineteen prisoners recaptured was taken when he flashed a forged discharge at the C. H. & D. station at Chillicothe. The forgery was made on a regulation discharge form and laborously filled out under the name of "William Jackson." But the Germanic characters of the writing gave the thing away and the man was detained.

TWO FOUND IN WEEDS

Two of the prisoners were found hiding in the weeds on an unused plot inside the camp. One of the searching party discovering them stumbled over one of the men kicking him in the back. The man became indignant at this fancied mistreatment and jumped to his feet in a rage, shouting: "You must be an Englishman. An American wouldn't do a thing like that."

Three Hundred and Seventy-five
American Horsemen
Back Again on Native Soil

(By Associated Press.)

Marfa, Texas, August 25.—Three hundred and seventy-five American cavalrymen, who last Tuesday entered Mexico in pursuit of the bandits who held Lieutenants Peterson and Davis for ransom, were back on American soil today, following abandonment of the chase yesterday.

The troops today resumed patrol of the border. Heavy rains yesterday, which obliterated the trails of the bandits, brought a decision to abandon the chase after contact had been made with Carranza troops.

During the six days the expedition was below the border, four bandits were killed by the troops and another by airmen, while nine bandits are reported to have been captured by Carranza soldiers.

The captured bandits are said to have been members of the Renteria band, which captured the American aviators.

Lieutenants George Rice and U. L. Boquet, American aviators who were reported missing below the Rio Grande yesterday after they had left for Mexico to reconnoitre for the punitive expedition, were located last night on the American side in Texas. They had become lost in the rain-storm and made a forced landing.

RAILROAD SHOPS CRAFT OFFERED PAY INCREASE

President Wilson Tells Representatives Greater Increase Would Plus Living Cost.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 25.—President Wilson today submitted to representatives of the six railroad shop crafts a proposal to pay shopmen about four cents an hour increase, on a basis of ten hours pay for eight hours work retroactive to May 1.

The President told the committee of 100 representing the shop crafts that any greater increase now would greatly increase the cost of living, and therefore was inadvisable.

Certain classes of shopmen who have been receiving 63 and 58 cents respectively would be paid 67 cents an hour under the proposed scale. This applies to car inspectors and car repairmen.

The shopmen's representatives told the President they would submit the proposition to their members, whose original demands were for an advance of 25 per cent.

The President requested that the men not act on the original proposition of having a congressional committee pass on the wage demands. A vote of the shopmen on this proposition is now being tabulated.

FIRST SERVICE IN NEARLY TWO YEARS

Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage delivered his first sermon to his congregation at the Presbyterian Church in almost two years Sunday morning. Miss Woodward added a lovely solo to the morning's program.

He also spoke with much feeling of Rev. J. L. McWilliams, the ability with which he had filled Rev. Gage's pulpit and won the affection of the people.

Rev. Grove then took charge; Rev. Ferguson led in prayer and Rev. McWilliams read the scripture lesson. Mr. James Kneisley played a beautiful violin solo, after which Rev. Rejmy made the offertory prayer.

Rev. Gage gave a most interesting account of his work overseas, the problems which are waiting to be solved; the various phases of the war and its influence upon soldiers.

Miss Lillian Davis filled the position of organist, playing beautiful solos as well as the accompaniments. Rev. Cherrington pronounced the benediction at the close of a service inspiring throughout.

Fearless Senator Needed

Latest developments in the controversy between the advocates and opponents of the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant are not encouraging to those millions of Americans who hoped for an early end of the wrangle and a final announcement on the new code of international law to fit existing conditions as disclosed by the world war.

It seems that the politicians are in control of the situation and are determined to do just as they please about it and they please to keep up the wrangle in the hope of gaining some political advantage to themselves or their fellow partisans.

It seems reasonable to believe that both parties to the dispute would welcome a final disposition of the entire matter, but both are jockeying to obtain an advantage if a settlement is reached.

None of the democratic senators favoring the treaty and the league covenant are willing to acknowledge that reservations and interpretations, which do not delay the execution of the treaty, would be acceptable. They seem fearful of a loss in political prestige if they do aught save stand for no compromise.

The republican senators who are opposing the treaty and the covenant are fearful to announce favoring such a compromise for fear it would be equivalent to showing the political white feather.

And so it goes back and forth, each line afraid to make a break. What the situation at Washington needs is for some fearless senator to dash out of the party line up and seize the spears of the opposing line, permitting the independents to rush together.

Perhaps this is the "darkest hour just before dawn." Let us hope so because there is little encouragement to be gained from the statements of the opposing factions.

Precedents

The tremendous social disturbances and frightful warfare of the past four years have taught us the need of smashing many old precedents which we have long outlived and which have long been a hindrance rather than a help to society.

We have clung, with poor judgment, to precedents established under radically different social conditions. Almost every line of human activity has felt the need of change, the need of breaking away from precedent and marking out a new rule of conduct.

As was to be expected the courts have been last to feel the need to break away from the old past with its galling precedents.

At last even the reform has struck the courts and eminent lawyers are now urging that precedents, when they tend to hamper progress be disregarded and used in the future as a warning of dangerous shoals rather than as an anchor allowed to check progress of civilization.

Trucks and Roads

Every few days we read, or hear that some individual or company, either local or having its base of operation in some other community, is going to put one or more trucks into public service and then we know that another strain is to be put on the roads.

Many individuals, without stopping to consider, at once voice an objection and emphatically express their disapproval of a project which will "tear the roads to pieces."

Well we might as well get used to it. If trucks and heavy motor driven vehicles are going to "tear our roads to pieces" we will have to build new roads and better roads, or travel over rough roads.

The motor trucks and vehicles for transporting passengers and freight, light and heavy, over the roads of this and every other county of the state, have come to stay. They are necessary to the demand of the times.

If one will but stop to consider what an enormous amount of passenger traffic and what a vast quantity of freight and parcels the railroads are relieved of by motor vehicles it will not be difficult to reach the conclusion that but for the motor vehicles the railroads would be literally buried under demands which they could never comply with.

The motor is here to stay—the automobile and the heavy trucks—the roads must provide passway and the people must provide the roads. More roads and better roads.

POETRY FOR TODAY

RECONSTRUCTION.

The village was, but war-torn, is no more,
And where the deep canals had silver lain
Dank growth have strangling grown
From shore to shore;
A calm moon paints the crosses of the slain.

Drear ruins raise their wrecks, like begging hands,
Up from the shell-pocked earth;
hard by the spot
Where once broad roadways met, a cottage stands,
And huddled there—children's garden plot!

The cottage turf-thatched roof is gaping wide,
And dust clings thick around the shattered walls
That prop the tottering door on either side
Upon whose step the glimmering starlight falls.

The garden plot, behind a rotted stile,
Is bare, and withered petals mat the ground,
Spring comes, and 'neath its warm,
inviting smile
The garden stirs—a blooming rose is found!

Caruso Put On Food Allowance And His Pantries An Cellar Depleted By Commissioners.

Florence, Italy, August 7.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Food now is being allotted to Enrico Caruso opera singer of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, whose picturesque Italian villa is situated on the heights of Signa Lastra, nine miles from here, on the same ratio as to the peasants in this section.

The new de luxe American limousine he imported was commandeered by the military authorities, while the Italian motor car he owned was requisitioned by the Prefect of the commune of Signa-Lastra. The work committees of the district had their eyes upon his villa many days, and when the disorder against the high cost of living took place here a few weeks ago, made an inventory of his cellar and pantry, told him he had far too much for one man and his small family to live upon and seized some of the wine in his cellar.

Describing the affair Signor Caruso said to the Associated Press correspondent:

"I was visited by a distinguished commission of men and women, conveyed up these hills in two luxurious automobiles decorated in red streamers. They read to me my mode of life in Italy and I have since been forced to live under their mandates."

TO CALL MEET FOR ORGANIZING A HEALTH BOARD

Mayor Dahl Preparing To Carry Out Provisions of New Health Law.

Mayors and Chairmen of Township Trustees of County to Act Aug. 29.

Mayor Dahl of this city has received a communication from Dr. J. A. Frank, District supervisor number five of the State Department of Health, directing him to call a meeting for August 29th, of the Mayors of the five towns of this district including this city, and the ten chairmen of the Township Board of Trustees, for the purpose of forming an Advisory Board to the Board of Health of Fayette County.

Under the state law recently enacted, it is stipulated that the Board shall consist of five persons and shall include one attorney, one farmer, two doctors and one layman, whose occupation is not designated. These five men will select the Health Officer, who must then be approved by the State Board.

After selection and approval of the officer will go through a course of four weeks' training, after which he will be under the state civil service.

The duties of this official will employ all of his time and he will be entitled to an assistant, who will fill the capacity of deputy. He will also be entitled to one clerk and a county nurse. The Health Officer will occupy an office in the court house similar to a county official.

It will be the duty of the doctors of the district, it is understood, to report each case of contagious disease which they have in charge and this will be rigidly enforced.

The meeting called by Mayor Dahl will take place in the court house at 2:00 p. m., Friday, August 29th.

The law, known as the Hughes Act, will go into effect January 1, 1920.

WEST VIRGINIAN TAKES A NAP BUICK DITCHED

Mr. and Mrs. Jividen Narrowly Escape Death on Chillicothe Pike.

When Car Takes Ditch and Smashes Telephone Pole—Woman badly Cut on Head.

About two o'clock Monday morning, a heavy Buick touring car containing Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jividen, of West Virginia, living across the river from Pomeroy, crashed into a telephone pole on the Chillicothe pike near Heglers Crossing, injuring Mrs. Jividen about the head and smashing the front of the car.

According to the driver, he had been driving for some time and was tired and worn out and fell asleep. The car struck a telephone pole with a terrific impact that demolished the entire front of the machine and broke the steering gear into pieces in the hands of the driver.

Mrs. Jividen was thrown against the front of the car. She was removed to the Fayette Hospital where several stitches were taken to close the wounds.

Another machine is reported to have run over a culvert on the Chillicothe pike Sunday evening. No one was injured.

CINCINNATI ADMITS IT

Cincinnati, O., August 25.—Officials and guards at the Cincinnati workhouse say there is a gradual decline in the number of prisoners that are being received at the institution since the sale of alcoholic drinks was prohibited, and that the number of inmates gradually grows smaller as sentences terminate. Those connected with the institution believe that prohibition has much to do with the decline. Only 86 prisoners are being held now, whereas in former years there were several hundred.

Armed soldiers from Camp Sherman were in the city Monday, seeking German prisoners, twenty of whom are reported to have escaped Sunday night from the camp.

The soldiers were part of a searching party which is scouring the country round, traveling in camp automobiles. The fugitives are of a group interned at Camp Sherman early in the war.

BAND A BIG HIT AT BUCKEYE LAKE

The local band, which gave an afternoon and evening concert at Buckeye Lake Sunday, received high praises from the resort management whose unqualified verdict was that it was "the best band that has played here in two years."

An immense crowd had gathered at the resort and standing room in the vicinity of the band stand was at a premium during both concerts. There were twenty-five pieces in the band.

HAD TO QUIT HIS JOB ON ACCOUNT DIZZY HEADACHES

Was Working On the New Science Building at Otterbein College Westerville, O., Taken with Dizzy Spell and Laid Off.

Got Bottle of New Herb Remedy Drecto and Returned to His Job Three Days Later and Been at Work Ever Since.

"I was working on the new building at Otterbein College, when I was taken with such a dizzy spell and headache that I had to quit and go to bed," is the signed statement of Mr. W. H. Brovne of 59 Centre St., Westerville, 12 miles from Columbus, Ohio.

"For some days before this, I had been suffering from aching pains in my back, over my kidneys; my food did not agree with me, but seemed to sour in my stomach, bloated me up and caused much uneasiness. My bowels were constipated, so that I had to take physic almost daily.

"I read daily about Drecto and what people right here at home were saying about it, so secured a bottle to try it on my case. It went right to the bottom of my troubles, and I was clear of headaches and dizziness, so that I went back on the job, after losing only three days. I kept taking Drecto and now all the pains are gone from my back; my food digests without the gastritis, or bloating and every morning my bowels move free and easy with out straining. Drecto is grand medicine and I am glad to add my words of praise to that of others."

The good old-fashioned, roots, herbs, barks and berries, like our forefathers brewed their teas from, and raised a hardy race of people, are still recognized as the best remedies for the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. Drecto is made from 12 herbal plants, and its action is prompt and pleasant for man, woman or child.

All good druggists now sell Drecto and it is highly recommended in Washington C. H. by Frank Christopher.
